

CHILDREN'S DANCE THEATER

Children's Dance Theatre believes that dance is important for all people, particularly children. Children need to know that their bodies are wonderful instruments that can bring joy to themselves and others – movement is good for us. The group brings 10-50 minute dance performances that are adventurous, ambitious, and thought-provoking. Performers use children's books, music, and dance to share stories & concepts. Audiences love the benefits of artistry & creativity with presentations that are entertaining and interactive. Directed by Kimberly Payne, B.A. Dance University of Akron
